Whereas, Lauri J. Wynn was born in 1930, in Harlem, New York, and died on December 18, 2013, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin; and

Wynn's dedication to teaching led to her becoming the first African-American woman to serve as President of the Wisconsin Education Association Council in 1973, later serving as an Executive Committee Member of the National Education Association from 1975-1980 before becoming a Policy Advisor on Black Affairs for Governor Tony Earl from 1983-1986; and
